

Everything we've built, one scan away.

Your pocket reference for the session. Every page, app, and printable we've made for My Nail Connection, each behind its own QR. Scan any of them live on the spot, or hand your phone over and let people explore. The three outlined in mauve are the ones to lead with.

The new 3.0 site ★

The rebrand, live. Lead here: this is the whole "where we're going" in one screen.

mynailconnection.com/v3

The new 3.0 app ★

Installable preview. Hand the phone over: browse techs, tap a look, see the booking flow.

mynailconnection.com/v3/app

Live 2.0, today ★

What's public right now. Show it beside 3.0 for the before-and-after moment.

mynailconnection.com

The 2.0 app

The current signed-in product, for comparing the old flow against the new.

mynailconnection.com/app

Tech onboarding guide

The 3.0 walk-through for nail techs. Show when the talk turns to "how do techs start?"

.../v3/tech-guide-v3.html

"No download needed" campaign

The angle that it works in a browser, no app store. Pull up when discussing reach.

.../no-Download-Campaign.html

Founders & early techs

The early-supporter page. Good for the "who's already on board" part of the story.

.../founders.html

Campaign one-pager

The printable pitch sheet. Hand it out, or scan to keep the PDF.

.../campaign-assets/one-pager.pdf

Launch punch list

The living to-launch checklist. For the "what's left before we go" question.

.../punch-list.html

Usage & stats

The numbers so far, techs, photos, activity. Pull up if the talk goes to traction.

.../stats.html

How to run the room

- Open on 3.0. Scan the first star, let the rebrand land before any explaining.
- Then the app. Hand your phone over on the second star, people believe what they touch.
- Contrast with 2.0. The third star is today's site, the "here's how far we've come" beat.
- Everything else is on demand. The rest are there so no question sends you hunting.

The story of the rebuild.

Four moves took My Nail Connection from 2.0 to 3.0. Each one is a talking point, use them in order and the whole arc tells itself.

1

The rebrand — quiet luxury.

Off the busy pink look onto the Nagel board: white space, mauve, black, the hat-no-face mark, black buttons. Reads calmer, more premium, and it's consistent from the site through the app to this handout.

2

The free-booking pivot — no commission, ever.

Booking is free for techs, with no per-booking fee. Two paths, their call: keep the link they already use (Vagaro, their site), or turn on in-app booking. Nothing to switch, no reason to say no.

3

Accounts that just work — softer sign-in.

Sign-up and the confirm / reset emails were rewired so a tapped link lands people inside the app, already signed in, instead of dropping them on a dead page. Booking asks only for a name and a verified phone.

4

The data rescue — nothing was lost.

The old database looked dead, it wasn't. It was a stale password, not lost data. Every tech, photo, and record from 2.0 was recovered on 15 July 2026. The final step is restoring it into the new paid database.

Where things stand

- DONE Rebrand shipped to the 3.0 preview, marketing + app, and the tech guide.
- DONE Free-booking model and softer sign-in built. Old-database rescue complete (15 Jul 2026).
- PENDING Restore the rescued data into the paid database, then real-device tests: one photo upload, one SMS booking.
- PENDING Cutover: promote 3.0 to the main site and retire 2.0.